IN BRIEF

Pope Francis runs fever

VATICAN CITY: Pope Francis skipped meetings Friday because he was running a fever, the Vatican said.There were no details about how sick Francis was. The last time he spiked a serious fever, in March, the 86-year-old pontiff was rushed to the hospital where he was diagnosed with acute bronchitis. He received intravenous antibiotics and was released three days later. A Vatican official, speaking on condition of anonymity because he wasn't authorised to speak about the Pope's health, said Francis didn't receive anyone in audience on Friday "because of a feverish state." AP

Russia says its border region attacked

Moscow's forces strike Dnipro clinic in central Ukraine

Associated Press
Kyiv

Russia's southern Belgorod region bordering Ukraine came under attack from Ukrainian artillery fire, mortar shells and drones on Friday, authorities said, hours after two drones struck a Russian city in a region next to the annexed Crimea Peninsula.

The Kremlin's forces, meanwhile, struck a clinic in Dnipro, in central Ukraine, killing two people and wounding another 23, including two children, Ukrainian officials said.

Also, a Russian S-300 missile hit a dam in the Karlivka district of Ukraine's eastern Donetsk province, placing nearby settlements under threat of severe flooding.

The Belgorod town of Graivoron, about seven kilometre from the Ukrainian border, was under fire for several hours, with four houses, a store, a car, a gas pipeline and a power line damaged, Governor Vyacheslav Gladkov reported.

Closer to the border, a recreation centre, a shop and an uninhabited house sustained damage in the village of Glotovo. One woman was wounded when the nearby village of Novaya Tavolzhanka was shelled, according to Gladkov.

Earlier this week, the Belgorod region was the target of one of the most serious cross-border attacks from Ukraine since the war began 15 months ago.

Details of the raid were murky. Russia blamed the Ukrainian armed forces, but two Russian groups said they were involved, with the aim of bringing down Russian President Vladimir Putin.

Officials in Russia's southern city of Krasnodar, in the region of the same name bordering Crimea, said that two drones struck there. Witnesses told local media they heard something like the sound of a moped and then two explosions.

The blasts smashed a hole in the roof of a building and blew out windows in an apartment building.

"We just went to bed and then there was such a strong terrible boom," resident Tatiana Safonova said. "We ran outside, there were people running, but nothing else was going on."

She said "there was a specific sound beforehand, like a growling noisy moped driving by."

"There is damage to buildings, but essential infrastructure was not damaged. And most importantly, there were no casualties," Krasnodar regional Governor Veniamin Kondratyev wrote on Telegram.

Serbia puts troops on high alert on border with Kosovo

Clashes reported between ethnic Serbs, Kosovo police

Associated Press
Pristina (Kosovo)

Serbia put its troops on the border with Kosovo on the highest state of alert on Friday following clashes between ethnic Serbs and Kosovo police that left more than a dozen injured on both sides.

The Serbs in northern Kosovo, who represent a majority in that region, were trying to block the entrance of municipal buildings to prevent recently-elected ethnic Albanian officials from entering them.

Police fired tear gas and several cars were set ablaze. In response to the clashes, Serbian President Aleksandar Vucic said that he put the army on a "highest state of alert."

Vucic also said that he ordered an "urgent" movement of Serbian troops closer to the borderline with Kosovo.

Vucic will attend a rally in support of him in Belgrade after two mass shootings earlier this month that killed 18 people and left 20 others wounded.

He said in a statement that because of "violence" against Kosovo Serbs, Serbia demanded that NATO-led troops stationed in Kosovo protect them from the Kosovo police.

Princess Sophia Duleep Singh's U.K. home gets commemorative Blue Plaque

Press Trust of India
London

Princess Sophia Duleep Singh, the daughter of Maharaja Duleep Singh – the last ruler of the Sikh empire – and the goddaughter of Queen Victoria, was honoured with a commemorative Blue Plaque in London on Friday.

The Blue Plaque scheme, run by the English Heritage charity, honours the significance of particular buildings associated with historical figures. In memory of the British-Indian Princess, it now adorns Faraday House, which was granted to Sophia and her sisters as a grace and favour apartment at Hampton Court Palace southwest of London by Queen Victoria.

"As a political journalist, I thought I knew the story of the suffragettes, and then I found this extraordinary woman and she blew me away," said Anita Anand, the author of the biography 'Sophia: Princess, Suffragette, Revolutionary.'

Diplomats from over 30 countries visit UAE temple site

Press Trust of India
Dubai

Ambassadors and diplomats from over 30 countries visited the under-construction site of the BAPS Hindu temple in Abu Dhabi - the first traditional Hindu stone temple in the Middle East - to inspect its progress and promote a dialogue of hope, harmony and humanity.

> The envoys and mission representatives from the Philippines, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, Afghanistan, Japan, Indonesia, Israel, Brazil, Belgium, New Zealand, Canada, and Nigeria, were among those who visited the temple, the Khaleej Times newspaper reported.

The diplomats attended the gathering of the Bochasanwasi Shri Akshar Purushottam Swaminarayan Sanstha (BAPS) temple on Thursday, on a special invite by the Ambassador of India to the UAE, Sunjay Sudhir.

"Columns of peace & beams of harmony, make up the @BAPS@AbuDhabiMandir. Resident Ambassadors and diplomats from more than 30 countries visited the temple site and marvelled at the delicate carvings & motifs from across world cultures," the Indian Embassy in the UAE tweeted.

The envoys and mission representatives from the Philippines, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, Afghanistan, Japan, Indonesia, Israel, Brazil, Belgium, New Zealand, Canada, and Nigeria, were among those who visited the temple, the Khaleej Times newspaper reported.

Sudhir briefed the ambassadors and their families on the temple's progress since the laying of its foundation stone by Prime Minister Narendra Modi in 2018.

He described the temple project as a symbol of the "close, historic and cultural bonds" between India and the UAE, which share the values of peace, harmony, tolerance and coexistence, according to the report.

Sudhir also hailed the vision of the leadership of the UAE and their inspiring efforts to build a diverse, peaceful and cohesive community.

According to the temple's official Twitter account, the diplomats were awed by the craftsmanship and message of its carvings and architecture.
